

REMARKS

1. Claims 109, 126 and 166 have been amended to recite "memory means for remembering commands" and Claim 163 has been amended to clarify the memory means disclosed therein and to recite "and remembering" with regard to the memory means and with reference to commands from the respective control devices.

Uehara '543 does not disclose memory means for remembering commands at all, and the cited art seems to only "remember" communication delays and other values, not applicable to the instant invention.

Accordingly, Claims 109, 126, 163 and 166 as currently amended are not believed to be anticipated by the cited reference.

2-6. Applicant also reiterates and incorporates by reference the remarks and arguments that have been presented in prior submitted amendments.

Respectfully submitted,
